

To: Phil North/R10/USEPA/US@EPA[]
From: Kathryn Allison Murphy
Sent: Fri 6/4/2010 12:59:26 AM
Subject: Re: Nature

Hi Phil-

I inquired about Nature at our horticultural library and we do not have Nature in our stacks. But we do have it in the Natural Sciences library on main campus. I would be happy to go over tomorrow afternoon about 2pm and inquire about this cover and to the possibility of scanning it in the library. If I can, I would be happy to scan and send it on. Could you please send me the publication date or volume number so I can make sure to grab the right copy? I give up an update on the process by 3pm tomorrow.

Katie

On Thu, 3 Jun 2010, North.Phil@epamail.epa.gov wrote:

>
> Hi Katie,
> If you not received any of the phone messages I have left for you then > this message will be new.
>
> I am hoping you can help me out with a presentation I am giving to the > EPA Regional Administrator next week. I am going to be telling him > about the resources at risk from the Pebble Copper Mine. The cover > article of this week's issue of the journal Nature is about Bristol Bay > salmon and is very relevant to my presentation. I would like to use the > cover in my presentation. However, I cannot get a copy of the cover > with sufficient resolution to use in a PPT. I only have access to > on-line copies of the journal. I am hoping that the paper copy has > arrived in the UW library and that you will scan it and send it to me.
> Is that possible? The scan would preferably be in color to show the > color of the sockeye salmon in the picture.
>
> Please let me know if this will work?
>
> I did not know you are a potter. Congratulations on the show.
>
> Phil
>
>
> Phillip North
> Ecologist
> Environmental Protection Agency
> Kenai River Center
> 514 Funny River Road
> Soldotna, Alaska 99669
> (907) 714-2483
> fax 260-5992
> north.phil@epa.gov
>
> "To protect your rivers, protect your mountains."
>
>